Ms. Rivera-Abrams specifically asked about a parent presentation so both parents and children were aware of the changes, and felt safe. She asked for parent group involvement and the meeting to be held at a practical time for parents, especially not during the workday. The Superintendent said one would be planned. The Board had additional questions about the occupancy of the building for the safety of the students and staff and what is the back up plan, should more time be needed before occupancy can occur. What will the district do to inform the parents of what the school will look like for these students. It was asked what will it look like for the 4th graders at Westfield Ave in terms of staff, shared services, etc. The Superintendent and other presenters answered the questions of the Board.

8. DISCUSSION REGARDING ALTERNATIVES to SCHOOL-BASED HEALTH CENTER

Ms. Rivera-Abrams presented a document to Board before the meeting started with an alternative to SBHC. She also read it to those in the audience and is part of the recording. Ms. Rivera-Abrams was asked why this is a better option than the SBHC? Ms. Rivera-Abrams wants to unify the families and not divide them. She went on that communication is more important than treatment, and she would like it to be a holistic approach. She still has concerns about all students having on demand access to the SBHC regardless of their educational identification. Ms. Martin questioned if we could contract with a provider to offer ZOOM sessions versus on site in the school. Space would still be needed, questions about facilitating was pointed out. Mr. Muscara agrees something needs to be done and appreciates the alternatives. Rachel's Challenge is a K-12 program focused on reducing school violence, bullying, and mental health and shared information with the Board. The Superintendent appreciates the sharing of ideas. He shared why he supported this effort; it needs to be multi-pronged approach. Superintendent Angeli and Assistant Superintendent Nash shared their ideas. Family resources would be continued to be distributed. How do we develop a relationship with providers regarding open slots which our students could fill, and help in the facilitation of those open appointments? The Board discussed being open to a shorter-term contract, or a one-year pilot program. Mr. Viens would like to implement the SBHC even if it is for the one year. Superintendent Angeli was charged to gather definitive information regarding the parental opt-in/opt-out of services. The issue of parental rights is a concern for some Board members.

Motion made by Mr. Viens and seconded by Ms. Lannon to add an agenda item for discussion and possible action to approve the SBHC for a one-year contract.

Dear Killingly Board of Education Members,

It is with great pleasure that I recommend Valerie Downs as the Goodyear Early Childhood Center employee of the month. Mrs. Downs serves as a speech/language pathology assistant and joined the Goodyear team in March, 2020. It was apparent right from the start that the addition of Valerie Downs to our program would be invaluable.

As a speech/language professional, Valerie visits every preschool classroom and works directly with children who demonstrate delayed communication skills. Speech/language development plays a critical role in a child's ability to effectively communicate. Children who can successfully communicate are able to engage socially with others and use language to manage frustration and disappointment. These skills have a huge impact on the frequency of behavioral incidents in a classroom. Language is also linked to early literacy in so many ways, for example hearing language is connected to later reading decoding; a rich vocabulary supports reading comprehension. So, in addition to the immediate improvement in a child's ability to communicate, the impact of what Valerie provides reverberates throughout a child's education.

On a more personal note, Valerie is a true team player, has a strong work ethic, and goes above and beyond what is expected. She takes on all assignments with enthusiasm. Her positivity is contagious and greatly appreciated by all her colleagues.

Thank you for this opportunity to publicly recognize and thank Valerie for her dedication to the children, families, and staff of the Goodyear Early Childhood Center.

Respectfully Submitted,

Sally Sherman

Rationale for the Photo Field Trip to Providence, RI

My photo students are going to be working on practicing techniques for street photography and architectural photography at school over the next couple of weeks. Once they have the techniques down, they need a relevant location to take photographs in and apply what they have learned. Both architectural and street require a city environment. Providence is my city of choice due to the proximity to the high school, the fact that it is easy to navigate, my personal familiarity with it having gone to school there, the variety that it offers in a small, walkable area, and the fact that it has proven to be the safest option over the years. There are several art schools in Providence which means that people are used to students walking around taking photographs. We have never had any issues in Providence. It is the closest city, which means we will be able to spend more time taking photographs, especially with the new start and stop times for buses. Providence Place mall also offers many options for lunch right off the street. My students can choose between Panera, PF Chang's, Cheesecake Factory, or eat their packed lunch in the park directly across from these restaurants. Buses are allowed to park free of charge at some of the small nearby parks and are easily able to pick us up in front of the mall once we have finished lunch. I have brought my students to Hartford before as well. In Hartford it was more difficult for the bus to find parking, it was more difficult organizing lunch, and the areas that we needed to photograph in were spread further apart which resulted in less variety in their work and less work in general.
