Dear KIS Families,

This year, Student-Led Conferences will be held on Thursday, April 2nd. At Killingly Intermediate School, we place tremendous value on building strong relationships with parents and families. This will be our 3rd annual Student-Led Conferences and we are so excited for your children to share the growth they have made throughout the school year! Student-Led Conferences are a way to empower students as experts in their own learning, and highlights their voices and insights to drive a rich discussion. Throughout the year, students have been adding artifacts to their electronic portfolio from each of their courses and will use these artifacts to lead a conversation with you.

April 2nd is a day dedicated to Student-Led Conferences. Students are only required to attend their scheduled 20-minute conference time with parents or caregivers. Classes will not be held that day, as all staff will be facilitating conferences.

Sign-ups for Student-Led Conferences will take place through next Friday, February 14th, using Sign-Up Genius. Please use the attached instructions to sign up for your child's Conference. If you need assistance using Sign-Up Genius to schedule a conference, please do not hesitate to contact your child's homeroom teacher or our main office at 860-779-6700.

In partnership,

Heather Taylor

Student-Led Conferences at Killingly Intermediate School

Student-Led Conferences are a way to empower students as experts in their own learning, and highlights their voices and insights to drive a rich discussion.

Objectives of Student-Led Conferences:

- Promote the mission of KIS by providing the opportunity for students to engage in authentic ways of thinking, ways of working, tools for working and skills for living in the world
- Students assume greater responsibility and accountability of academic progress and habits of work
- Parents, teachers, and students engage in open dialogue
- Increased parent attendance at conferences
- Increased opportunity for student self-reflection and self-evaluation
- To emphasize our student-centered philosophy
- To build open relationships with families

Role of Student:

- The student is the center of the Student-Led Conferences. Teachers guide the students through the conference process and help the students prepare, but they are responsible for leading the conversation with parents and teachers during their conference time.
- Each student maintains a portfolio to showcase progress in all content areas throughout the year.
- Students complete the Student Reflection Form for each content area, along with the Student SLC script. The Student SLC script allows students to reflect on their strengths, weaknesses, pieces of work, and future goals.

Role of Teacher:

- The teacher guides the student through the conference and helps the student prepare.
- Each homeroom teacher supports students creating a portfolio of student work. Selected assignments are included in the portfolio.
- Teachers are responsible for helping students select assignments to highlight at the conference and for providing class time for this purpose.

Role of Parent:

- The parent/guardian is the second most essential attendee to the conference.
- Parents/guardians should be briefed about the format and objectives of the SLC so that the conference runs smoothly.

Schedule your child's Student-Led Conference using:

SignUpGenius

Conferences are scheduled in 20-minute blocks on Thursday, April 2nd. All conferences must be scheduled in advance.

- Go to: www.signupgenius.com
- Click on: Find a Sign-Up in the upper right corner of the page
- Search for your child's homeroom teacher using their email address: (i.e.: htaylor@killinglyschools.org)
- Select an available conference time.

Please contact your child's teacher if you need assistance scheduling a conference time.
